THE LEGEND OF EVIL.

This is the sorrowful story Told when the twilight falls. And the monkeys walk together Holding each other's tails:

"Our fathers lived in the forest: Foolish people were they. They went down to the cornland To teach the farmers to plow."

"Our fathers fished in the miller. Our fathers shipped in the vicar. Our fathers hung in the branches. Our fathers danced in the street."

"Then came the terrible farmers. Nothing of play they knew. Only they caught our fathers And set them to labor too!"

"Set them to work in the cornland, With plows and sickles and flails; Put them in mudwalled prisons And cut off their beautiful tails!"

"Now we can watch our fathers. Sullen and bowed and weary, Stopping over the miller, - - - Surmiser the silly mold."

"Driving a foolish furrow, Mending a muddy yoke, Sleeping in mudwalled prisons, Steeping their food in smoke."

"We may not speak to our fathers, For if the farmers know They would come up to the forest And set us to labor too!"

This is the horrible story Told as the twilight falls. As the monkeys walk together Holding each other's tails.

that you can secure a most immediate relief from Indigestion, and that uncomfortable fullness after meals, by simply taking a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator? Some people think that because it is called Liver Regulator it has nothing to do with Indigestion and the like. It is the inaction of the Liver that causes Indigestion, and that fullness; also Constipation, and those Bilious Headaches. Millions have been made to understand this and have been cured from these troubles by Simmons Liver Regulator—a medicine unfailing and purely vegetable.

From Rev. M. B. Wharton, Baltimore, Md. "It affords me pleasure to add my testimony to the great virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator. I have had experience with it, as occasion demanded, for many years, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times. So good a medicine deserves universal commendation."

ASSESSMENTS ON MINING CLAIMS.

In 1873 a bill introduced by Senator Stewart of Nevada relating to the development of the mineral resources of the United States passed both houses, received the approval of the president and became a law of the land. That it was an equitable measure and gave general satisfaction is proved by the fact that it has stood unimpaired and unamended for over twenty-one years. This act requires an annual expenditure of $100 in labor or improvements upon every mining claim located under its provisions for which a patent has not been procured. When silver was at par, or even above $20 per ounce, there was some inducement for prospectors who discovered and located mining claims to develop them, and no complaint was made against the law which required the annual expenditure, but of late years silver has been declining in price until only the richest mines can be profitably worked, and "prospecting" has become one of the lost arts. There is slight inducement for those who have expended the amount of the assessment required by law for many years to protect their claims to do the annual assessment work this year, and the owners of many such claims are financially unable to do so, yet unless the expenditure is made they lose what they have expended, as the claims will be subject to relocation next January.

In view of these conditions caused by the general depression in mining incident to the low price of silver, owners of unpatented mines throughout the mining region ask that the time for doing the annual assessment work for this year be extended. The Colorado Mining Exchange has memorialized congress to change the assessment year from January 1st to October 1st of each year, and extend the period for making the annual expenditure for 1893 from December 31, 1893, to September 30, 1894. As this request is not unreasonable and the change in the assessment year from December 31st to September 30th has been generally recommended, and a bill to make the change was introduced in the last congress by Senator Stewart and passed the senate, it is to be hoped the goldbugs of the house will make the concession.

THE BATTLE OF THE STANDARDS.

Eastern newspapers which have joined the silver forces say the battle of the standards has only begun in the east and south. It is the people's battle against the plutocracy, the battle of right against might, the battle of America against Europe. It will not end with the repeal of the Sherman act by congress. The people are the arbiters of the fate of presidents, senators and representatives and they will decide the question and win in the end.

The New York Recorder, which is now advocating the silver cause in the stronghold of the goldbugs, says:

The all-important thing is in what direction the currency coach shall now be driven—on toward bimetalism, free silver currency and a revival of our drooping industries and withering prosperity, or deeper and deeper in the mire of monometallicism, which is struggling all enterprise and forcing hard times upon all classes of the people, except the owners, by folding them tighter and tighter in the coils of the cobra of contraction.

The Recorder has no fear for the ultimate result. It has faith in the people and when the question is submitted to them they will right the wrong of 1873 and restore prosperity to the country.

EASTERN goldbug papers advise western Republicans and Democrats to unite in one party. They think such a fusion perfectly natural as there is nothing to divide them. Sherman and Carlisle, Voorhees and Lodge have formed a coalition in the senate, and why should not Republicans and Democrats in the west follow their leadership.

The Graphic Publishing Company desires to know who is editing the JOURNAL. If the Company will make the request officially, that is by resolution of its board of directors, the JOURNAL will gratify its curiosity.

The Denver News says: "See what devotion to political parties has brought upon the farmers, miners and business men of the silver states. Look at the ruin and hard times around you and discard the old corrupt parties forever."

"WHAT," asks the New York Recorder, "is there more sound than a big silver dollar with the stamp of Uncle Sam on it? Try it with the baker, the grocer, the drygoods merchant or the landlord."

The Rocky Mountain News says if all the senators were as earnest in behalf of silver as Nevada's Stewart congress would be in session next Christmas without adjournment or it would pass a free coinage bill.

The Atlanta Constitution says eastern Republicans and Democrats make a rare combination. They are in business for revenue only.

The British lords defeated the home rule bill, and as a result the London Radical and Liberal newspapers call for the abolition of the house of lords.

The Carson Appeal claims that its exposure of the crooked methods of the Ormsby county ring saves the taxpayers $10,000 a year.

DESPERATE TRAIN ROBBERS.

They shoot the Engineer, Blow up the Express Car With Dynamite and Secure About $20,000.

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., September 12.—Another daring and successful train robbery goes on record. The New York express train on the Lake shore road, which left Chicago at 7:45 last night, reached the siding at Keeler, five miles west of here, at 1 o'clock this morning. On approaching it Engineer Knapp noticed a red danger signal light at the switch and stopped the train.

As he did so twenty men, armed with Winchester, sprang out of the woods and scattered along the train, covering the trainmen, while one fired at the engineer, inflicting a wound in the shoulder. With everything in hand, the robbers proceeded to blow open the forward express car with dynamite, and then, knocking the express messenger senseless, exploded five dynamite cartridges in succession against the safe before it yielded. They helped themselves to its contents, the whole performance occupying an hour, when, without making any attempt on the other express car or interfering with the passengers, who remained in the car panic stricken, they fired a few warning shots and disappeared in the woods.

It is rumored that the robbers got a quarter of a million of dollars in transit from one of the Chicago banks to New York. The rumor has not yet been verified. The train came on here, the alarm was given and the sheriff at once summoned a posse and started in pursuit of the bandits.

Engineer Knapp brought the train here, but was unable to proceed further on account of his wound. It is believed he will recover. There were two safes in the express car, one for through matter, to which the messenger had no key, and one for local matter. The robbers compelled the messenger to open the small safe, from which several thousand dollars in currency were taken. They then blew open the big safe with dynamite. In the outer compartment was a quarter of a million dollars in gold, with which the robbers loaded themselves, not stopping to open the inner compartment, in which was a large amount of money. In their haste to get away they overlooked to gold bars.

The train is the heaviest for express on the road and frequently carries half a million dollars. It is believed this fact was known to the robbers.

When they left the train they went in a southerly direction. The point at which the robbery occurred is in a deep cut in the woods but all the country around is thickly populated and with little timber, and it is believed impossible for the robbers to escape. Poses are scouring the country in search of them.

A BAD LOCALITY.

From 1867 to 1872 Kendallville and the adjacent country to the northwest was the headquarters of the most desperate gangs of train robbers, horse thieves and cutthroats that ever infested the west. In the early 70's they had a regular system of robbing freight cars on route and throwing out the plunder to confederates, the plunder in the aggregate amounting to vast sums. About that time they varied the monotony by robbing the Kendallville Bank. The gang had a strong political pull and for a long time escaped justice. Finally the citizens took the matter in hand and posesses were formed throughout the section and work began. In the conflicts which followed a dozen robbers were killed and a number of farmers wounded and twenty members of the gang, including the notorious Red Leary, were landed in the penitentiary.

CHICAGO, September 12.—General Superintendent Crosby of the United States express, declares that the total loss is less than $20,000. He says the robbers thought they were carrying away bank notes, but secured mostly paper, worthless to them, and overlooked $15,000 worth of gold bullion. He emphatically denied the report that $275,000 had been taken. The papers carried off by the robbers consisted mostly of settlements with agents, receipts for money, legal papers, etc., done up in packages about the size and shape of bank notes and marked one thousand, two thousand and so on, to indicate the amount receipted for, etc. He says only five or six men were concerned in the robbery.

President Newell of the Lake Shore road this afternoon offered a reward of a thousand dollars for the capture and conviction of the robbers.

It is reported from Albion, Ind., that the robbers are surrounded by the sheriff's posse and a fight is in progress, with indications that the robbers will be captured or exterminated.

The ways and means committee devoted yesterday to hearing the Representative Manufacturers' Club and the Woolen Manufacturers' Association of the United States against any change in the tariff on wool and woolen goods.

The house committee on elections of president and vice-president and members of congress ordered a favorable report on the bill repealing the federal election law. The Democrats expect to give it exclusive attention in the house after Thursday. A bitter partisan fight is expected.

A large number of representatives of boards of trade attended the business men's meeting in Washington yesterday. The object of the meeting was to urge the immediate repeal of the bullion purchasing clause of the Sherman act.

Telegraphic Notes.

The Republicans opened the campaign at Ligonney, Iowa, yesterday. Frank Jackson, candidate for governor, was the principal speaker and heartily tributed the depression to Democratic success.

Judge Otis of the superior court has sustained the city ordinance of Redlands prohibiting the Salvation Army from beating drums on the street.

Governor McKinley of Ohio opened the campaign at Akron. He declared that a large majority of the Republicans in the Senate would vote for the repeal of the Sherman act and if it did not carry the Democrats would have to bear the blame. He stated President Cleveland's position on the tariff question and said the proposed revision was to be made utterly regardless of American industries.

In reply to a resolution, Secretary Carlisle sent to the senate a statement to the effect that during August and the first seven days in September his department redeemed in silver coin $1,473,874 in treasury notes; that only $3,609,815 in silver had been coined under the law and that no paper money had been redeemed by the payment of gold since the 4th of March, except the gold certificates that had been cancelled.

Although receipts of cattle at Chicago during the past eight months decreased almost 200,000 head as compared with 1892, the combined increases at Kansas city, Omaha and St. Louis of almost 288,000 head leaves an increase for the four markets of 88,600 head, a good showing.

A. C. Brown says that last week's rains were unusually severe on the meadows, and did a great damage to hay which had been cut and grain in the stack. Mr. Brown says wheat is now selling at Lovelock for $18 per ton. Notwithstanding this is a bedrock price, during his residence there wheat has sold as low as $17.—Silver State.

ASSESSMENTS ON MINING CLAIMS.

Resolutions Adopted by the Colorado Mining Exchange.

Colorado miners are endeavoring to get the laws of congress relating to the annual expenditure on mining claims modified. The Colorado Mining Exchange unanimously adopted the following memorial to congress on the subject:

WHEREAS, The decline in the price of silver has seriously affected the mining districts in Colorado and other states, in some causing their complete abandonment by an industrious population compelled to seek employment elsewhere; and

WHEREAS, The remaining residents are able to procure the necessities of life for themselves and their families only by the utmost diligence and effort, and are thus absolutely prevented from giving attention to other matters of less immediately pressing urgency; and

WHEREAS, The annual expenditure of $100 in labor or improvements upon unpatented mining claims, commonly known as "assessment work," required by law, is a burden which at this time cannot be borne by our mining population and if enforced can only result in the loss of many of the valuable mining claims which they have protected by the annual work required by law for years past, with, in many cases, extensive development work; and

WHEREAS, This assessment work is usually done during the closing months of the calendar year, under conditions of great difficulty and danger, and consequently with comparatively unimportant results;

Resolved, That the Colorado Mining Exchange, representing the interests of all the mining sections of the state, respectfully requests the senators and representatives in congress from Colorado to use their efforts to procure such enactment by congress at the present session as will provide that the year during which said assessment work is to be done shall begin on the 1st day of October and expire at midnight of the 30th day of September in each year, and that the period for such work for the year 1893 shall expire on the 30th day of September, 1894, instead of on the 31st day of December, 1893, as the law now provides.

"JANE," THE QUEEN OF COMEDIES.

An Exceptionally Bright Company and Attractive Play.

The best and brightest of all the Frohman comedies, "Jane," comes to the opera house next Saturday evening for one night only. The engagement of this comedy in San Francisco was a great success. It was one of the most successful of the season, and it made an impression that is not easily forgotten. It introduced an exceptionally clever company of players. A new Jane, in the person of Miss Jennie Yeaman, will be seen here. She has been especially selected by Manager Charles Frohman to play this part, and it is said that her performance is the best yet given. It will be recalled that "Jane" is an exceedingly funny comedy. The story briefly told is as follows: A reckless young man has been getting money from his guardian on statement that he has an extravagant wife. He has really no wife at all, and when the guardian suddenly appears on a visit it is necessary to provide himself something that will at least look like a wife. The young man provides himself with an alleged helpmate, and his butler obligingly provides him with another. Then a child is needed and found. Another is needed and not found, but is accounted for. The mother of the first child comes and demands it, and the butler who is the real husband of the master's pretended wife, tires of the game and exposes the whole trick. The butler and the maid servant are reunited, the mother recovers the child, and a pretty girl comes forward ready to be married to the hero, while the guardian beams, forgives everybody, and pays all the debts.

THE EFFECTS OF DEMONETIZATION.

California Farmers as Badly Hurt as Nevada Silver Miners.

The San Francisco Chronicle points out how farmers as well as miners are affected by demonetization. It says: "The goldbugs say it is only the silver producer who suffers from the effects of demonetization, but figures like these tell a different story. Between January 1 and September 1, 1892, there were shipped from this port 5,650,384 cents of wheat which sold for $3,714,877. From January 1st up to September 1st of this year 6,756,621 cents were shipped, and their value only ran up to $3,088,973. In other words the farmers of California have thus far this year sold 675,904 cents more of wheat than during the corresponding period of last year and have received $1,105,237 less for their grain. As the records of nearly a quarter of a century demonstrate that the price of wheat declines as the price of silver goes down the evidence is pretty conclusive that California farmers are being as badly hit as the Nevada silver miners."

A Tragical Death.

The Carson Tribune reports the following tragic death in Mason valley: Last Sunday A. W. Brann and "Doc" Mason, his stepfather, had some trouble about their landed possessions. Monday morning about 8 o'clock Mason set fire to the haystack and dwelling, both of which were consumed, and then committed suicide by lying face down in a pool of water ten inches deep. A coffin was this morning shipped from this city by Martin Downey, and the deceased will be buried at Wabuska.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

HARD TIMES.

An Exciting Meeting of Business Men, Laborers, Farmers, Mechanics and Miners.

The first speaker to address the meeting was a laboring man. He told of being out of work for more than three months, his children were barefooted and he had not been able to buy a stitch of clothing for sixty days; his wife had been kept busy mending the old clothes and he didn't think they would hang together much longer. Besides these drawbacks, his family was living on half rations, which were furnished by a relative; but the relative was beginning to feel the stringency and could not assist his family any more. The outlook for the future he considered desperate.

The next speaker was a mechanic. He also was out of employment. The last building he worked on was sold to satisfy a mechanic's lien. Owing to the hard times, it did not bring enough to pay 25 per cent. of the liens. As a result, his cash was exhausted and he was living on one meal a day. The future, he thought, looked very dark.

The next to free his mind was a farmer. His crop had to be sold below the cost of production. He was in arrears for two years' interest on his mortgage, and he was threatened with foreclosure. To make matters worse, there were thousands of idle men traveling and looking for work. His kitchen table had been turned into a free lunch stand, for, as long as he had any grub in the house, he would not turn away a man with an empty stomach. He was wearing his last year's overalls, which had been worn threadbare, and the many patches on his raiment told plainer than words of the stringency of the times. He thought, under present conditions, life was not worth living.

The next man to address the motley gathering was a dealer in boots and shoes. His stock of boots and shoes was attached on account of debts which he owed to a Massachusetts shoe factory. His haggard looks showed that he was suffering for the necessities of life. The future looked extremely dark, with nothing in store for him but privation, misery and death.

After the shoe dealer, came the grocery merchant. He, also, was in the hands of a receiver. Owing to the hard times, his customers were unable to pay their bills. This prevented him from meeting his obligations, and a receiver was the result. His money and credit were both gone, and he thought suicide was the only thing that would head off starvation.

The last speaker was a miner. He had been working in a silver mine which was obliged to close down on account of the low price of silver. He had traveled several hundred miles foraging on the country. His hat was minus a crown, his overalls had been torn to shreds by the sage brush and prickly pear, and his worn-out shoes made him the very picture of abject poverty. He seemed to voice the sentiment of the meeting when he told his hearers that the cause of all the trouble was our pernicious financial system. This country had become a province of Europe, whose bondholders and rhylocks were ruling with an iron hand. The leaders of the two old parties were the paid agents of this money aristocracy, and if Rothschild and his partners in sin didn't loosen their grip on the people so they could make a decent living, there would be a revolution. It was very evident that his listeners didn't propose to starve to death in a land of plenty.

After endorsing the Omaha platform and demanding that congress make an appropriation for public improvements to furnish immediate work for the unemployed, the meeting adjourned.

Regarding Marriage.

Don't forget that marriage is the foundation of a new family, not the union of two old ones.

Don't marry anybody until satisfied that life together will be bearable and enjoyable as long as both shall live.

Don't expect marriage to make a very great change in the habits and aims of a young woman or a young man.

Don't marry for physical beauty alone; for, unless mated with beauty of mind and spirit, it is truly an apple of ashes.

Don't marry one whose tastes and ideals in life are so different from your own that there never could be singleness of aim and purpose in the home.—Silver State.
